Sharing is natural

It is also a fun thing to do.

Rub off some vivacious vibes from Jenny as she regales you with tales of sharing essential oils!

On guard, Deep Blue Series

Jenny is not your usual dōTERRA builder-sharer. She holds a full-time job with an Internet traffic and content management solutions provider, and in her spare time, she has no qualms sharing essential oils with anyone and at anywhere. One of her most interesting sharing was conducted at a wet market! Her conviction to share and create awareness on the usage of essential oils to support and enhance health and wellness stemmed from her personal testimony when her chronic digestive health issues were fully resolved with dōTERRA's Cleanse & Restore Program. Jenny is also a huge fan of using essential oils to support and boost her sports performance in tandem with facilitating a faster recovery.
